

HOME NEWS.

NEW-YORK CITY.

Alexander E. Orr has been elected vice-president of the Mechanics' National Bank.

The Hobart College alumni will dine at Martinelli's on February 5.

Abram S. Hewitt, who is suffering from a painful carbuncle, was improving yesterday.

The number of immigrants landed at Castle Garden for the week ending yesterday was 1,852.

The assignee of Matthew Armstrong & Son said yesterday that it was impossible for him to give a statement of liabilities and assets yet.

Dr. Willard Parker passed a comfortable day yesterday. He was feeling better and his friends were much gratified at the improvement.

Science Hall, in Eighth-st., has been leased to a billiard club of Englishmen, who will introduce the English game on English tables.

John S. Kennedy has been elected a trustee of the Central Trust Company to fill a vacancy, caused by the death of Martin Bates.

Unsafe buildings reported yesterday: Nos. 50 and 52 Thomas-st., 240 Spring-st., and 118 East Fifty-ninth-st.

Deaths last week, 636; births, 549; marriages, 223; arrests, 1,108; excise licenses granted, 122; and fees collected for licenses, $6,835.

STREETS TO BE CLEANED TO-DAY.

The street-cleaning department of the City and County of New York will have their entire force to-day to clean the business streets and those through which the street-railroads run.

DEATH OF A SHIP CAPTAIN.

Captain Clark, of the bark Electra, from Calcutta to Boston, which arrived at this port yesterday, died of Cape Hatteras on Wednesday last. The vessel was in charge of First Mate Barclay.

PASSING AN ABANDONED SCHOONER.

The steamer Edith Gooden, Captain Bennett, from St. Ann's Bay, Port Maria, reached this port yesterday in lat. 32° 35' north, longitude 74° 44' west, she passed the schooner Mattie B. Ruion dismasted, water-logged and abandoned.

DISAPPEARANCE OF AN EXFORSER.

One of the exfersers of the city, the unemployed heap of wooden planks and shingles, has disappeared, and workmen are laying the foundation for a seven-story brick building, in which the manufactory of gas fixtures will be carried on by a Walker-st. firm.

THE EAST INDIA COTTON CROP NOT INJURED.

The cotton market was steady yesterday, and closed at Friday's prices. A dispatch was received from Bombay, stating that the report of the day before regarding injury to the East India crop was untrue, and that the cotton was in good condition.

SMALL FOX ON A SCHOONER FROM BALTIMORE.

Bert Betts, a sailor on the schooner Archer and Reeves, was discovered with small fox on board the vessel at the foot of East Twenty-eighth-st., yesterday, and was removed to the Riverside Hospital by order of Sanitary Inspector Chapin. The schooner arrived recently from Baltimore, Md., where Betts contracted the disease.

LEAKING FOURTEEN INCHES AN HOUR.

The ship Martha Cook, of Yokohama, which reached this port yesterday, 170 days from Yokohama, on September 21, in lat. 38° 15' south and longitude 138° 54' east, she ran into some wreckage. The ship began to leak twelve inches an hour, and this increased to fourteen inches, and continued until the vessel reached port. All the pumps had to be kept going.

DIAMONDS FOUND IN A SERVANT'S POSSESSION.

In the Yorkville Police Court yesterday Kate Jacoby, a domestic employed by Frederick Joseph, of No. 339 East Fifth-st., was held for trial on a charge of stealing a quantity of jewelry, apparel from her master. A portion of the goods were found in her possession, as were also some diamonds that she is supposed to have stolen. Detective McElwan and Gull, of the Nineteenth Precinct, made the arrest.

FATALITY INJURED WHILE COASTING.

While coasting yesterday on the Kingsbridge road, at One-hundred-and-eighty-ninth-st., Lawrence August, nineteen years old, of Tenney-st., and one-hundred-and-eighty-ninth-st., struck one of the Fire Department repair wagons and broke his left leg above the knee. He was conveyed to the Riverside Hospital. He died in the day a coroner was asked to go to the hospital to investigate the cause of his death.

TWO WORKMEN FALL THROUGH A HATCHWAY.

Ernest Lang, a male factory at No. 64 West Third-st., eighth-st., slipped on the first floor yesterday, and fell through a hatchway to the cellar. He caught hold of Ernest Kemble, another workman, and both fell down also. Lang was carried to the Roosevelt Hospital insensible. It is thought that his skull is fractured. Kemble's knee cap was broken.

THOUGHT TO HAVE HUNG HIMSELF IN A LABORATORY.

The friends of Norman M. Pierce, the young chemist, of Buffalo, N. Y., said yesterday that they did not believe that he had committed suicide. When he was on the verge of making a discovery which would make him wealthy, and he had no money in his pocket, he was in the laboratory, where no person can disturb him, hard at work in his study.

BOXES AT THE ACADEMY SECURED.

Among those who secured boxes at the Academy of Music for the representation of Miss Burdette's new comedy "Was He Right?" on the evening of February 3, are Royce, Packer, D. O. Smith, William C. White, ex-Governor Stanford, William C. Carter, Mr. William K. Vanderbilt, Mr. Edward Cooper, Mrs. Adrian Iselin, Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Mrs. Ogden Rogers, Mrs. Abraham Hewitt, Mrs. L. B. Magrawe and Mrs. William Astor.

THE WEST WASHINGTON MARKET ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the West Washington Market Association was held yesterday morning in Vesey-st. West-st. It was well attended, many new names being added to the list as a result of the resolution adopted at the last meeting. The committee appointed to wait on the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, from whom the stands are leased, reported that they were referred to the Controller for the decisive answer as to when the market was to be vacated.

REVENUE FOR AN ILL-PUTTING COAT.

Howard Combs, a man who looks like a tramp, was charged before Justice Power yesterday, at the Tombs Police Court, with throwing a stone at a man of color, and with carrying a dangerous weapon. The glass was valued at $150. He was in this revenue because he had purchased an ill-fitting coat there which he was unable to exchange. He was held in default of $300 bail.

MORE IMAGINATION THAN FACT.

The date of the departure of the Vanderbilt party for the Pacific coast has not yet been ascertained. Vanderbilt will remain here longer than was at first expected. The special train over which some newspaper reports have made a great deal of noise, will be the imagination of the writers. The party will travel on Mr. Vanderbilt's parlor car, with two ordinary sleepers, now running between New York and Albany, attached.

A NEW WHITE STAR STEAMSHIP.

The Imrie, the latest addition to the White Star steamship fleet, was launched from the yard of Harland & Wolff, at 340 feet in length, 44 feet in breadth, and depth 32 feet, and she registers 5,000 tons. She has two double-cylinder engines, working horse-power, with an initial pressure of 90 pounds to the square inch. There are four masts. The saloon is paneled in wal nut and maple. The sleeping cabins are the main deck, the accommodations for the first and second passengers are such as to insure comfort. The Imrie, a sister ship to the Imrie, will be launched in February.

STEALING SEVENTY-TWO COATS.

Samuel Goldman, age twenty, of No. 60 Eldridge-st., and Isaac Levi, age eighteen, of No. 80 and 88 Bowery, were arraigned before Justice Power yesterday at the Tombs Police Court by Detective Joseph Flanagan, age fifteen, of No. 41 Mulberry-st., a remarkably good-looking girl, disguised as an old woman, in Malin lane, where she was begging. She had in her arms Julia Flanagan, age three, and hanging to her skirts was Augustus Flanagan, age seven. It was ascertained that her father lived at No. 38 Mulberry-st., and worked daily, although she said that he was dead. He professed to be in ignorance of her conduct. She was committed for examination by Justice Power yesterday at the Tombs Police Court.

THE LARGEST MORTGAGE ON RECORD.

In the register's Office yesterday there was recorded the mortgage by the new Produce Exchange building was mortgaged. The mortgage is given to the Farmers' Savings Bank for a loan of the years of $1,150,000, at 4 1/2 per cent interest. The Exchange is privileged to pay off this indebtedness at the expiration of a year by instalments not less than $100,000. It is agreed by the mortgage that the property shall be insured against loss by fire in an amount approved of by the mortgagee, and in default of which the mortgagee will effect such insurance. This mortgage, which is larger than any heretofore placed on record in this county, is dated January 25.

DEATH OF A "SICKER-ROCK."

Sarah A. Kline, who had lived in the Blackwell's Island institutions for the last twenty-five years, died at the Charity Hospital on Wednesday. A story was circulated to the effect that she had been about Christmas and had been buried in the Potter's Field, but was subsequently disinterred for some unknown reason and re-buried in Calvary Cemetery. Mr. Van Loan, the steward of the Imrie, said that there was no truth in the story. The woman was about seventy years old, and had been employed at the hospital as a domestic ever since she had been found on her after she died. He had used that money for burying her in Calvary Cemetery, instead of the Potter's Field. She said that she was a descendant of a good Scotch booker family in New York, but so far as she could ascertain she was born in Birmingham-st., and had led a dissipated life.

BROOKLYN.

The Brooklyn police made 392 arrests last week. Permits for the erection of 29 new buildings were granted by the Commissioner of Buildings last week.

Overcoat thieves are numerous around the lakes in Prospect Park.

The loan exhibition of paintings at the Art Association Rooms, in aid of the Sheltering Arms Nursery, will be continued this week.

A new surface road is talked of to run through Rutgers, Flatbush and Fort-Haven. There will be considerable opposition to the scheme, as the last-named thoroughfare is a popular drive with many people.

A float of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which had been towed to the foot of Adams-st., sank late on Friday night. The water was shallow and the deck of the float was only partly covered. It was moved by means of steam derricks to another float. It is thought the ice saved a hole in the hull of the float.

The canal-boat Nelson Lothridge, laden with 100 tons of coal, broke from her moorings at Marston & Co. dock, near the East River Bridge, about 1 a.m. yesterday, and drifting down with the tide struck the head of Jewell's wharf, which had twenty feet of water. Captain Stetling, who had twenty feet of water, had barely time to escape to the deck. By great effort he climbed the woodwork of the pier.

JERSEY CITY.

John H. Miller, a respectable German, who keeps a small grocery store, No. 30 Edge-ave., was arrested by the Jersey City Police yesterday morning, on a charge of burglary. It seemed to be a case of mistake. Miller, who is a German, was arrested on Thursday night, and taken to the Jersey City Jail. He had been caught in his chicken house, with several chickens in his possession. The latter had been having trouble with his escape. Judge saw Miller walking in Grand-st., on Friday morning, and he was arrested. Miller had several chickens in his possession. He was held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

District Attorney McGill said yesterday that the trial of the case of the Imrie, the president, cashier and bookkeeper of the Imrie, was postponed to the next term of court. It is understood that the defense will try to have the trial postponed until the next term of court. It is understood that the defense will try to have the trial postponed until the next term of court. It is understood that the defense will try to have the trial postponed until the next term of court.

Herman Haver, a tailor doing business in Newark, near Jersey-ave., was convicted in the Court of Sessions yesterday of receiving stolen goods. Haver is the man who purchased the silk braids, trimmings, buttons, etc., stolen from the Imrie, and who was employed in the house. The jury were out all night, and did not agree upon the verdict until 10 o'clock in the morning. The ground counsel will apply for a writ of habeas corpus, as it cannot be convicted in New Jersey of receiving goods which were stolen in another State.

NEWARK.

A caucus of Democratic Aldermen was held on Friday night, and it was decided to favor at next Council meeting a complete change in the city government.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Woodford celebrated their golden wedding on Friday night at their house, No. 114 Mechanic-st. They were married in Hillsburg, N. H., and spent the forty years of their married life in Newark.

The Citizens' Committee to revise the charter has not adopted any form of charter, and it is not probable that the members will come together again for the purpose. The present charter is so satisfactory that the labor of the committee have not met with any general favor.

Lois Appel, a music teacher and orchestra leader, died yesterday morning at his house, No. 71 Market-st., from the effects of injuries received from a fall down stairs on Tuesday morning. One of his ribs was broken and penetrated his lungs.

NEW-JERSEY.

UNION HILL.—Eliza Bauer, age forty-one, who was employed in Alana's silk mill, went down into the cellar of the mill yesterday to draw some water. As she was stooping over the well to fill her pail, she lost her balance, fell into the water and was drowned.

PATERSON.—About forty weavers in the broad silk department of Pater's mill went on strike yesterday, and went on strike, being dissatisfied with their pay. The weavers assert that the firm impose fines upon them without sufficient reason. The employers on the other hand say that they only require good work from their weavers, and that the latter are dissatisfied because they are not allowed to impose poor work upon their employers. The striking weavers have in without declaration of the newspapers warning other workers to keep away from the mill. The mill-owners have issued a circular, addressed to other silk manufacturers, requesting them not to employ the men.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

WHITE PLAINS.—A suit has been commenced in the Supreme Court by the executors of the will of John Haas, against all the heirs-at-law and legatees of the said John Haas, deceased, most of whom live in Germany. The questions involved are whether the residuary estate shall be divided among the heirs-at-law, or among the legatees, and whether the residuary estate shall be divided among the heirs-at-law, or among the legatees, and whether the residuary estate shall be divided among the heirs-at-law, or among the legatees.

LONG ISLAND CITY.—The Board of Aldermen held a meeting at the City Hall yesterday, and passed resolutions of condolence with the family of Alderman James R. Bennett, who died at Astoria on Friday. There was a rumor yesterday that the proceedings against the Imrie would be postponed. It is now ascertained that the payment of $30,000 in full satisfaction of all claims against him.

STATEN ISLAND.

PORT RICHMOND.—The ferry to New-Jersey has been re-established with the tug Junie running in place of the steamer Argosy.

CARLETON'S.—The Old Revolutionary dwelling near the station, one of the ancient landmarks of Staten Island, has been repaired, so as to prevent it from falling to pieces.

CRITICISING MACE'S "DOT."

SLADE'S CHANCES AGAINST SULLIVAN.—THE CHALLENGE TO THE LATTER.

The lions of the hour are the pugilists, "Jim" Mace and his pupil, Herbert A. Slade. Slade, a hotelier and a street, the merits of the New-Zealand, and his chances of success in a fight with the champion, John L. Sullivan, are eagerly discussed. The latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfeit-money is ready to be paid. This latter class, too, have given a fair in Mace's judgment, and they believe that he knew what he was doing when he brought Slade under the name of Richard R. Fox, who is to back Slade, is very well satisfied with his man. When his attention was called to a report that Sullivan would not fight for less than $10,000 a side he said to a TRIBUNE reporter: "That is all nonsense; $10,000 is the largest sum of money ever fought for in this country, and it ought to satisfy any reasonable man. I am willing to catch Slade against Sullivan for $5,000, and to fight with bare knuckles, according to the rules of the London prize ring. My forfe